BERLIN HIGH SCHOOL 2005 2006

The memories of our high school days remain forever imprinted in our minds. In addition to our overall experience that we've shared - the h-o-u-s-e, the summer nights, the school year. From homecomings to performances to (endless) summer nights, the time we spent with friends and family / both in and out of school has been irreplaceable. Each memory + adds another photograph, another caption, another keepsake - page after page, uniquely designed visual manifestation of our greatest dreams = perfectly written. ~ Whether we are placing our first pictures or taping down our final and realities, Berlin High has been a place for all of us to (perfect) our creative style commentaries, throughout the 2005-2006 school year.

From fire drills during midterms to some fine-feathered friends roaming the halls, this year has been markedly (unique) and memorable. The experiences we've had and the jokes we've shared will (never) grow old even as the pages of our "scrapbook" become faded and torn. As the memories are replayed in our heads and the reverberating laughter resounds in our ears, we begin to realize that no one will be able to understand just what exactly went on beyond the classroom and behind the scenes. Sometimes the unforgettable and / amazing memories we've made along the way cannot be described to those on the outside looking in. Sometimes you just can't say it any other way... "Don't get it?"

YOU HAD TO BE THERE!

After four years of adding and e.n.d.l.e.s.s. list of memories into our "scrapbooks," we have finally reached the last few pages. Now, all there is left to do is c-r-e-a-t-e an ending and close the back cover. Although we have finished this edition in the series of our <<clives>> at the end of the summer we will be creating a new cover and writing an entirely different introduction on a blank as this one was four years ago. Even though our /high school days/ have at last come to an end, the amazing memories we've designed together will remain forever.

Years from now, we will be able to once again lift the cover of our scrapbooks and revisit every moment with the turning of each additional page; each photograph reminding us of a unique memory and the story behind it. (Creating) and adding to our book is only half of the journey - revisiting the "time" spend both in and out of the classroom and reminiscing about the times we've spent together will prove to be just as emotional; and meaningful as designing it was.

Fifteen years from now, we will r-e-o-p-e-n this book together and our laughter in remembering our happiest years will l-e-c-h-o// through the hallways with just as much fervor as it has these past four years. We will point to our poses and smile to ourselves, and when our spouses and children ask why we look so amused, we will simply //look// at each other, turn back to them, and casually state:

"Never mind... It's just one of those things.
You know - you just had to have been there."

CLASS OFFICERS

"I have really enjoyed and appreciated my time as a class officer. I have learned valuable leadership skills, and also that to achieve something great, you must put in lots of work. But to be honest, it hasn't been all hard work for me because I've been lucky to have such dedicated officers working with me. I wish for nothing but the best for every member of our class."

~ Brian Jud, Class Treasurer

"It has been one amazing ride being the Vice President of the 2006 class and to see our class change and mature over the past couple of years. For it's not just the class officers who run this class; all of us run this class in some shape or form. We just helped along the class in all its endeavors. To see the influence that we've had on the class has been wonderful because it has shown us that we do have a voice in this world." ~ Josh Thompson, Class Vice President

CLASS ADVISORS

- It has been a real pleasure working with all of you and getting to know you over the past four years. As a class, you have so many different talents and strengths that you have developed and shared with the BHS community. Whether it was in academics or athletics, music or dramatic arts, striving for excellence was evident. More important though, was the concern and caring that you demonstrated for others on a daily basis or through Upbeat projects, Circle of Friends and Unified Sports. Here you showed your true character and your collective big heart. Our hope is that you continue to give as you have in the past and that you are happy in all that you do. Success is within your grasp.

Our best wishes always,
Mrs. King and Mrs. Salerno

Advisors: Sheila King & Mary Salerno

Being in the Berlin High Chorus gives us the opportunity to express ourselves through the beauty of music. Whether we're singing "Dusted" in Freshman Chorus, "And So It Goes" in Chorus, or "God Is Seen," in Advanced Voice, the never-ending plethora of songs, styles, and variety keep us singing both in and out of class. This year, all four of BHS's clubs traveled over the border to compete in a festival in Toronto, Canada. All of the groups performed to the best of their ability and enjoyed the beauty of our northern neighboring country all the same. From day class, we enter and bring concerts to trips outside of the state (and even the country!). We have learned more about the techniques of vocal performance and shared our progress with the outside world.

Madrigal Feast
2006

Bravo and Valeri-Kelito

John Matthe and Jordan Park

The Madrigal Singers attempt to recreate the style of music typical to the 16th and 17th centuries. After putting on our costumes, we slip away from our cell phones and iPods and into another world, filled with lords and ladies, serfs and manors. The style of music is harmonic and beautiful, filled with the sophistication attributed to the period. Our faces reflect the joy in our hearts and the emotion laced within the music as we sing of life, love, and loss. Each year we perform a Madrigal Feast, complete with the Wassail Bowl and Boar's Head. This year's play, "Surely you Jest," as well as pieces composed by the fictitious author BQR, displayed a lighter side of the Madrigal style. Complete with radiant knights, princesses in disguise, and a fishmonger that wears what he sells, the feast was a last time for the seniors to immerse themselves in the joys of performing in such a unique choral group. The Madrigal Singers add breadth and talent to the Performing Arts Department of Berlin High.

The Slaves and Eunich

This year we laced up our sandals tied on our thighs, and I traveled back to Ancient Rome for the musical, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." This sophisticated yet tongue-in-cheek comedy allowed us to separate ourselves from the traditional musical world and into a place where male slaves dressed as female courtesans and rubber chickens were mistaken for beautiful babies. "Forum" was directed by Mr. Kelly and featured several seniors including A.J. Cote (Pseudolus), Jesse McKenzie (Domina), Cherie Mercien (Philia), and Ryan Erickson (Hysterium). When it was time to raise the curtain, we were ready to portray our wacky characters, complete with a fantastic array of hair makeup, and costumes. As we stood backstage in quiet anticipation, we quickly flashed back to all of the intense yet hilarious nights spent rehearsing in the auditorium. All of the hours of preparation finally paid off: from the first note to the final crescendo, this hilarious burlesque kept the audience on the edge of their seats with laughter and delight. "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" was wonderfully performed, and as always, there was never a dull moment either on stage or behind the scenes.

Playing Wonderful Time

After months of hard work and (distracted...) opening night of the 2005 fall play, Happy Wonderful Time had come. The notes had been given, the windows had been hung, the costumes had been sewn, the makeup had been caked on, and the butterflies in our stomachs let us know there was no turning back. As the curtain lifted, ^ revealing an attentive audience of "family" and (friends,) we took one last b-r-e-a-k and walked into our characters/ and into the stage! All in all, despite the snow days, I missed cues, I and backstage fights, we all had nothing short of a wonderful!

Where else could you partake in a foreign poetry slam, be possessed by a baby doll, and appropriately place someone in inappropriate situations? The BHS Drama Club is one of the most active clubs in the school. From the Fall Play to Improv Night to the Senior Class Play and Underclassman Project, we do it all. Our weekly meeting consists of anything from performing memorized monologues to practicing without ad libbed improv comedy teams. Throughout the year, and with the help of advisors Ms. Klavell and Mr. Vivier, Drama Club has become a tight-knit, supportive environment for all of its members. As soon as we enter through the doors of the Auditorium every Thursday at 2:30, we step into a world where the stresses of everyday life can be forgotten and we are able to immerse ourselves in the challenging yet therapeutic world of theatre. Drama Club is an amazing release for everyone in it - a place where it's perfectly acceptable to become a talking mule, a human Moby-Dick, a piece, or a trouncing puzzle. Whenever or whatever you are, you can come.

Being inducted into the Berlin High Chapter of the National Honor Society is an important honor for all of its hardworking and intelligent members. In order to qualify, students must excel both in the classroom and volunteer in the community. Through projects such as donating books to the Children's Home in Cromwell and providing tutoring services for peers, the students are able to demonstrate their strong leadership skills and concern for others. By joining the various clubs and organizations at BHS, we are allowed to express our individuality by exploring countless hobbies and interests. Not only are we able to share our lifelong talents with others, but we can also discover new activities that we would never have been exposed to otherwise. We are able to raise our voices and speak out about our beliefs through written word, music, and community service. Phantasmagoria and Redcoat Review allow us to write freely about ourselves and the world around us, while at Acoustic Club and Radio Club we are able to share the joy of music with the rest of the Berlin High community. Through Ophelia and UpBeat, we can reach out into the town of Berlin to volunteer our time and service, whereas at Student Council and Youth and Government, we can throw ourselves into the world of politics. We are able to explore career opportunities through Future Teachers Club and Future Engineers Club; or, if we'd like to step out of our lives and into another world, we jump onstage with the rest of the Drama Club. Regardless of our interests, there's a club at BHS to help us develop and foster them. The plethora of clubs at Berlin High give us the strength and background to enter into a world of diverse occupations and organizations in the future.

Every year, there is a rivalry at Pitt's ~~(between)~~ the Junior and Senior girls. This takes place in the form of a football game, otherwise ~~known~~ as powder puff. As tradition goes, ~~Boers~~ always win, and this year was no different. Early one Sunday morning, the senior girls started off with a bang by ~~intimidating~~ the juniors by arriving hawking and yelling in a ~~motorcade~~. Dominating the field, the senior girls went on a rampage, preparing the way for this year's juniors to be just as brutal ~~next~~ year.

Islands are like television. Some are like PBS and always asking for money. Others are like the news, with sad tales to tell everyday, some are like that one station with the foreign language; you don't understand a word of it but you listen and watch anyway. And then there are the ones like the commercials, always changing, ever-so-annoying and only seem to be there when you are bored. But every once and a while you meet someone who's like a really good movie of the week or that one tv show you hardly ever get to see anymore because you're so busy. Hold on to the friends you care about. We don't have a remote control to mute someone or change the channel, so don't regret the time you have together.

SUMMER LIFE

The count down until vacation begins on the first day of school. We look forward to the days when time can be wasted in the sun with our closest friends, and when we can be ourselves. Summer is when being lazy is our greatest concern, and coming home before 1 AM is our greatest frustration. The memories and photographs that summer produces are endless. It is a part of who we are, and is unforgettable.

How many days until vacation?

BEHIND THE MUSIC

ARMED WITH energy and originality, the London Classics rock anywhere they are invited to play.

The Classics
London

THE LONDON CLASSICS classifies themselves as a "pop punk" band, but you won't catch them listening to any other bands placed in that genre. Inspired by bands such as Against Me!, The Dead Kennedys, The Descendents, and Toys That Kill, they offer an energetic sound and a stage presence as unique as the idiosyncrasies of each member. Mainly a senior band, the London Classics are: Ryan Erickson on rhythm guitar and lead vocals, Ethan Beschler on lead guitar and vocals, Greg Horbal on bass and vocals, and Tyler Bisson (sophomore) on drums and vocals. Where did such an original name come from? "I was on a car trip with Dan Hagen, and as the two [of us] tried to come up with a name, we passed a sign for Classic Automotive and an exit for New London. Thus, the London Classics were born," explained Greg. Originally started in 2003 with Ryan Norton on rhythm guitar and Jed Manner on drums, the London Classics have made a few adjustments to become the band they are today.

Rhythm Guitar and Lead Vocals: Ryan Erickson

As far as their music, Greg and Ethan used to write all of the songs, but over the years it has become more of a group effort. Over the past few years, the London Classics have played at a variety of venues: house parties, the Berlin Polish & Szeva Clubs, the Webster Theater and Underground, "anywhere we can get the chance," according to Greg. So far, they've released two demos, "Black and White," and "Two Geese and a Rock Star," and are working on a third entitled "Crusades." Every thing has seemed promising for the LC, recently signing to Academy Beebop Records and playing at numerous out-of-town locations. Their plans for the future? "We plan on playing/writing as long as we possibly can," says Greg, although with 3/4 of their members graduating this year, they will have to go on hiatus for awhile. But don't worry, LC fans, with solid beginnings, a promising future, and a whole lot of talent, it seems that the London Classics will be rockin' everyone's faces for years to come.

Drums and MC/Vocals: Tyler Bisson

...And what do they have to say about all this?

"LIVE ON US LONDON CLASSICS!"

THROUGH LOTS OF hardships and lineup changes, Inside Joke has remained strong.

Inside
Joke

INSIDE JOKE, a self-proclaimed "punk/rock/anything" band that got its beginnings when its members were in 8th grade, is a unique underclassman band. Although there are currently 13 sophomore members: Tyler Bisson (bass, drums, vocals), Dan Erickson (bass, drums), & Chris Teti (guitar), they have had several different members since their McGee beginnings. One of these former members, John Mattie, gave the band its simple yet intriguing name. Inspired by old Green Day, Yellowcard, SOAR, Rush, The Escape Engine, & the Wu-Tang Clan, Inside Joke has embraced the sound of their favorite bands, & incorporated their unique personalities to create a unique & invigorating style. As far as their original music, Tyler writes most of the lyrics & some music, while Chris writes most of the music & some of the lyrics. They've played in various venues such as McGee dorms, Polish Club shows, the Berlin

Fair, & various house shows. They have released two demos: The Joke is on you & The Joke is Still on You. Over their next two years at Berlin High, Inside Joke plans to stay together to "Keep the scene alive," says Tyler. And with such talent, there's no doubt that they will do just that.

Guitar: Chris Teti

The many bands of BHS reflect passion and individuality of its

On Deck...

FOLLOWING IN THE FOOTSTEPS

Of such great former BHS bands such as Look West, Stone Boat, and CKRT. These four bands are leading the way in the Berlin rock music scene. Complete with their own original styles and individualist members, they each promise unique music and an exciting time at all of their performances, whether they're performing at the Berlin Fair or Webster Theatre. With such enormous talent, there's no wonder the BHS bands are going places - some have even signed to record companies and played at numerous shows across the state. Regardless of their fame outside Berlin, these bands reflect the passion for all types of music present here. With new underground bands such as The Conflict, Cody Fontez, Kevin Anderson, and Han Young, and Move of the Week (Justin Allen, Mitchell Cyr, Kevin Cyr, and Shawn Condon) joining these seasoned ones, it looks like this wave of bands is far from over with.

Rock On, BHS.

...AND CONFIDENT, ARLETTE is sure to conquer Berlin with their defined, hardcore style.

ARLETTE

In 2004, this post-hardcore/more band played their first show in 2004. They have recently changed their name from Dark at Noon to ARLETTE, which is the name of a historical figure. All of the members simultaneously dreamed that that person one night, so they decided it was the perfect name.

Although they have had a few lineup changes, ARLETTE now consists of Ryan Nelson on guitar and vocals, Alan Huck on guitar, Jon Makowski on drums, and Jay Thomas on bass. Inspired by bands such as Saosin, Just Surrender, Chiodos, Darkest Hour, Gray Matter, Fear Before the March of Flames, Silverstein, and more, this band's set is filled with emotionally charged lyrics mixed with hardcore music. Their writing process usually involves "Ryan coming up with something on the guitar and everyone else will put something into it," explains Alan. ARLETTE has played in a variety of towns such as Berlin, Hartford, Madison, Cheshire, and Hamden. They most enjoy playing at the Webster Underground (Hartford), Cheshire, and Berlin, their hometown. ARLETTE recorded one two-song self-titled demo under their old name (Dark At Noon) at Devenwood Studios. In the future, they plan to record, play a LOT of shows, get signed and tour," says Alan. When asked if there was anything they wanted BHS students to know, they replied, "WE SPIT HOT FIRE."

Table Mesa Drive

Table Mesa Drive is a jazz/fusion/rock band that features Jon Schaller on electric and upright bass, Greg Fortunato on alto, tenor, and baritone sax, Nick Mesa on alto sax, Rob McCrann on piano and keyboards, Tyler Bisson and Dan Erickson on drums and percussion, Brian Gruchowski on guitar, and occasionally Spencer Blaske on keyboards. The band was formed through a long and intricate process when, "Greg and I (Jon) were interested in forming a band in the winter of '04/'05. After jamming with Tyler and Dan in athletic band at the school basketball game, they joined us. Greg switched to sax, Nick joined us, and we had our first gig. Rob joined us soon after, and several months later so did Brian after his guest appearance with us at the Berlin Fair."

Their name was derived from an old street sign they found in Jon's basement, however, for more formal performances they call themselves "The Rob McCrann Quintet." Inspired by countless jazz musicians such as Miles Davis and various rock bands, Table Mesa Drive's truly unique songs usually begin with a bass-line and a general harmonic outline, and the rest is improvised on the spot. They've played at a variety of venues in Berlin as well as Tuxis Country Club, Hartford Hospital Banquet Hall, and the Hawthorne Inn.

Table Mesa Drive hopes to continue playing at various venues, especially with Rob McCrann when he returns from college.

Principal George Synnott

"The class of 2006 is a group of students who have experienced both triumphs and tragedies during their years at Berlin High. It is a class that has united together to support victims of the tsunami, earthquakes and hurricanes. It is a class that demonstrated caring and respect in a time of grief and loss in our community. Finally, it is a class that provided leadership and direction throughout their senior year. My wish for the graduates of 2006 is that you will all dedicate your lives to what the ancient Greeks wrote centuries ago: 'to tame the savageness of man and make gentle the life of the world.'"

Assistant Principal Dr. Mark Benigni

"To the seniors who have taught me how to learn daily, laugh often, and smile much; thank you for four great years!!!"

Assistant Principal Matthew Pace

"I live by words once written by Robert Browning, 'A man's reach should exceed his grasp.' At first, I took the message to mean that one should strive for perfection. Today, I am reminded that goals should be set high; perhaps, unrealistically high. By setting goals in the stratosphere with a commitment to these goals, one can achieve betterment. Forward progress is rewarded!"

"I have known Mr. McNulty since he worked at McGee. We share similar educational philosophies and some interests such as history and investigating DNA. I do draw the line at eating lunch with him, since I don't like my lunch dissected."

— Mrs. Daniels

Teacher of the Year

John McNulty

the Year

"Mr. McNulty is the king of Brown Bag Science. Once every month or so a student would come into my room with a brown bag asking if he/she could leave it in Mr. McNulty's room. I would always ask the student what was in the bag, and the answer 9 out of 10 times was that Mr. McNulty would give extra credit for bringing in roadkill and that he/she had found a squirrel, or opossum on the road. The most unusual gift was when a student brought in an actual deer heart. I had him put that little treasure in the refrigerator. What Mr. McNulty did with these special offerings is still a mystery. . . From what I hear it all tastes like chicken."

— Mr. Hanbury

Inspired by Charles Darwin, Steven J. Gould, and E.R. Watson, Mr. John McNulty decided to become a biology teacher his sophomore year of college. However his passion for the subject began far before his college days. "I decided to major in biology... mainly because I enjoy nature and love to tell people about it." Mr. McNulty graduated from Western Connecticut State University in 1967 with a B.S. degree in biology and secondary education. Throughout his teaching career he has also earned a Master's Degree in Biology and a M+30 in Marine Sciences.

Mr. McNulty began teaching in the Berlin school system at McGee Middle School, and he has been teaching at Berlin High since 1982. At Berlin High he teaches a number of biology courses including AP/Conn Biology, Marine Biology, and Biotechnology. "All are enormously interesting to me and I want to explain it to others, young or old. It is what I am. I am a teacher."

Although Mr. McNulty enjoys participating in many activities outside of his career, it is evident that his passion for biology extends far beyond teaching. "I love to climb mountains, via trails not ropes and I'm in love with the state of Alaska with all its wild life, glaciers, and topography." Mr. McNulty also enjoys watching the History Channel as history is another of his passions. "I would have majored in history as I find it fascinating. I include history in my biology lessons whenever I can as history affects science and science affects history."

When asked what advice he has for students he replied, "My advice is to work hard at it even though you may see no relevance to your life. The relevance may come later." He also advises students who wish to go into education that while teaching is a difficult occupation it is worth the stress. "Teaching is greatly rewarding... intellectually and you do yourself and your community a good service."

Even though Mr. McNulty is one of the most respected and knowledgeable teachers at Berlin High he feels that he still has a lot to learn. "My cooperating teacher for my student teaching, Mr. Donovan, showed me what a good biology teacher should be. I felt if I could be like Mr. Donovan, then I would be a great biology teacher. I'm still working on it."

"Mr. McNulty is the best science teacher I have ever known. He is dedicated to two things: his students and his science. His work day is long and is spent producing the best possible education for his students. He also prefers hands-on experimentation and application of science rather than memorization of facts... He never stops learning so that he can be a better teacher for his students. 'Going the extra mile' doesn't even come close to describing Mr. McNulty. 'Going the extra light year' might be closer."

— Mr. Russo

Teacher of the Year 1971

Guidance Counselor John O'Connell

Mr. O'Connell began his career as Director of Guidance at Berlin High 20 years ago, after receiving a BA in English from Fairfield University, an MA in history from Trinity College, and an M.S. from CCSU in Counseling/Administration. Prior to this career, he filled several roles for 21 years at East Catholic, including teacher of English and history, Dean of Boys, and Guidance Counselor. He decided to become a counselor after the principal of the school asked him to, but he feels that all teachers play the role of guidance counselor as well. "I really believe all teachers are counselors as they are communicating values and supporting their students every day of the school year," he stated. He enjoys aiding students in their difficult quest for discovering their own potential and learning to believe in themselves. Outside of school, Mr. O'Connell enjoys reading several genres of literature, including biographies and poetry. He also enjoys UConn Basketball, Notre Dame Football, and is an avid Yankee fan. He also enjoys gardening and spending time with his grandchildren. His many travels inside the U.S. and one to Ireland are some of the highlights of his life. "A visit to Ireland strengthened my sense of family and faith," he admitted. The most important influences in his life are his parents, who themselves only had elementary school educations, and his senior English teacher at Hartford Public High. "[He] opened up the world of literature and higher learning by his encouragement and wonderful and open teaching style," he stated. During retirement, Mr. O'Connell plans to spend more time with his family, concentrate more on his hobbies, and "watch Berlin win more state championships," he proudly mentioned. When asked of his advice to students, Mr. O'Connell was eager to give many thoughtful words of wisdom. "In the last analysis, the quality of your character as evidenced in your compassion for those less fortunate is more important than your class rank, GPA, or your acceptance at a prestigious college. Decisions coming from the heart are most always the right decisions."

"John has been instrumental in establishing a successful comprehensive developmental counseling program at Berlin High. Through his commitment to excellence he has developed and maintained an outstanding reputation for providing all students with myriad opportunities to achieve both their academic and personal goals. When working with his students, John demonstrates dedication, enthusiasm, and respect; all of which are integral to establishing a positive rapport with students. He has an incredible work ethic, and is always willing to listen and provide guidance and direction to each and every student who happens to be on his doorway. He has provided other counselors with tremendous support in terms of setting an outstanding example of how counselors should service their students with an open mind, kind heart, and as much cooperation as possible. He will be sorely missed; and never ever will his contributions to the success and development of the BHS guidance department be forgotten!"

- Laura Sullivan

"If you put all the students and teachers that John O'Connell has lost patience with over his time at Berlin High School in a single room, you would have an empty room. Despite the uncountable frustrations and strange behaviors associated with counseling, John has been a rock of compassion and kindness, and with everyone be it students, teachers, or parents, with whom he has played his trade. We'll miss him." - Dave Scamell

John is, with a smile and a genuine love, I have had the next to fortunate opportunity to begin my career under his wing. John's then his always been open and no question is ever too small, his guidance has been invaluable. He will be missed.
Happy well deserved Retirement John!

Kevin

Mr. O'Connell has been a wonderful supervisor for the past 10 years that I have been the Guidance Secretary. Words that come to mind when speaking of him are compassionate, patient, caring and understanding. If there is a question or problem that needs to be solved, we all know we can go ask John. Mr. O'Connell has a wonderful sense of humor that sometimes gets us all through a stressful afternoon. As supervisors go, I have to say Mr. O'Connell is the BEST!

Mary Racina

John O'Connell, a man of kindness and compassion for all his students. When in doubt, I will ask, "How would John handle it?" and that's usually your answer. In the years to come, I will miss John's laughter and positive attitude, especially in the difficult times. I am thankful for the two years I have spent working with a kind, person and true professional!"

Andrea Barretta

"John has always demonstrated remarkable patience and understanding with both the staff and the students. Much like one of my favorite movies 'Field of Dreams', he has dedicated himself to making the dream of his students become reality. I was fortunate to have the opportunity to work with John for many years and call him a friend!"

Alice Mitchell

"I had a void this is going to be like at BHS next year... the students are losing an awesome; the teachers are losing a mentor; and I'm losing a devoted friend and skilled care partner. To make matters worse, we're losing another Dreamer!"

Seems like you grew up fast.
Yesterday we held your hand waiting for the bus,
Today you drove home from school.
This morning we helped you tie your sneakers,
This afternoon you bought your own running shoes.
An hour ago we called you...
A nickname we're sure you don't want mentioned here,
Now we call you on your cellphone.
Times flies when you're having fun,
And it was fun having you with us these past 18 years.
Love,

It has been quite a journey, these past 18 years. You have grown from kindergarten tears and pictures in your pocket, into the independent and amazing young man that you are today.

Though at times you've tried our patience, somehow you always make us smile. That sense of humor has helped you a lot over the years.

We wish you much success at whatever you choose to pursue in college.

Congratulations! With a blink of an eye, high school is over. We will miss the plays and improvs, concerts and marching band ("there's a difference between a drummer and a persussionist"), the barbeques, video games, and fireworks with the gang. We are very proud of your accomplishments during high school, especially the friendships you have made. In your travels you will make new friends, but work hard to keep the old ones close to your heart.

You started out as our shy little Bryan, but have turned into a confident, outgoing, and sometimes outspoken young man. You have the ability to drive us absolutely insane, but you also have made our lives joyous with your sense of humor, deep loyalty, and very compassionate nature. We wish you all the best in achieving your dreams, and please know that we will always be here for you.

We are so proud of you and love you very much!
